3. Present Levels of Academic Achievement and Functional Performance

Jordan continues to have a documented reading comprehension need. Specialized reading has continued at the same frequency and session length. Classroom comprehension remains an instructional focus.

Behavior present levels use the more recent progress data. The updated behavior baseline is 2.0 episodes per week. That value supersedes the earlier FBA/amendment baseline of 4.25 episodes per week for the new goal period while retaining the historical sequence. The January 30, 2026 progress report recorded 2.0 episodes per week. This IEP does not create a new measurement event on the IEP date.

Task initiation within 2 minutes was 78% on the January 30 progress report. Task initiation remains a separate construct from task-refusal frequency. The Behavior Intervention Plan dated 2025-11-03 remains a current support.

4. Educational Need

The primary educational need remains reading comprehension. An additional documented need is self-regulation / task engagement during independent written work. Jordan continues to require specially designed instruction and the behavior supports introduced in the November amendment.
